INTRODUCTION

You may not know, but anyone who has ever studied anywhere is an alum. You don't even have to have graduated; if you've studied somewhere at one time, then you are an alum of that institution. As soon as more than one alum get together, they become alumni (that's the plural form), and the more alumni you have the wider your alumni network becomes.

What's an alumni network?

Every educational institution has an alumni network, formal or not, and they're used for a wide range of things. Alumni can build business connections, organize reunions, and serve as shining examples of the kind of people that their institution produces. It's very useful for those who are genuinely interested in the lives of their old classmates and like to see what they're up to.

How can I get involved?

Typically, these groups are headed up by an alumni president. This is someone who's there to help set up cool networking events, bring students together, and create a space where everyone can stay connected and made aware of what's going on with former peers. It's a complex job that involves working hard to connect people.

Look out for their emails asking you to update contact details. Reaching out via whatsapp and simply engaging with your fellow alums is also a great step, as the community can only be effective if its members engage with each other! To be part of KFLA alumni network take a course from our academy upon the completion of the course you will become alums.

How can I benefit?

Education is so much more than just the qualifications you receive at the end. It's about the lessons you learn, the people you meet, and the relationships you build. So why would you expect to leave all of that behind after graduation?

Our alumni network provide long-term value to members by giving them the chance to stay in contact and continue to learn from each other long after they have finish their course.

Support networks are hard to come by out there in the world and having a ready-made one full of people with shared experiences just waiting to connect is a luxury that few can afford to turn down. When join our alumni network you leverage on such opportunity.

KFLA is currently the largest distance learning leadership Academy in Africa. We equip our students for success in career and personal lives. Learn more about us visit our website
